ToddlerCoddler Awarded Patent Rights

POTOMAC FALLS, VA – The Dunk Group LLC today was awarded patent rights for its flagship product, the ToddlerCoddler.

ToddlerCoddler is a mom-invented product that provides head, neck and lateral support to prevent sleeping children from "slumping" in their car seat or booster. It also can be used in jogging strollers, umbrella strollers and on airplanes. All that is needed is a headrest or seatback.

"What a tremendous feeling," said Susan Dunk, inventor of the ToddlerCoddler. "We have waited so long, and there were so many hurdles along the way. I'm so glad it's finally over."

ToddlerCoddler was awarded U.S. Patent Number 6,793,287 by the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office.

The Dunk Group LLC (dba ToddlerCoddler) is a Northern Virginia-based small business. The company applied for the U.S. patent in November of 2002. It is currently undergoing the same process for international patent status.
